That is because the requirements are all covered under parts of the CWA. It is not called a PIR but the components are there. I'll make sure her response is clear on that point.

Hi Simma,

We would like to receive confirmation of an answer you gave to the public interest review question that ADEQ posed to EPA during one of the previous biweekly EPA - ADEQ meetings.

Our current understanding is that ADEQ is not required to create a public interest review process as part of EPA approval of a complete 404 state assumption package. Specifically, ADEQ is not required create an equivalent public interest review process as described in 33 CFR Part 320. Would you please confirm our understanding?

Thank you,
Mark Joyner
